1989 Hambletonian

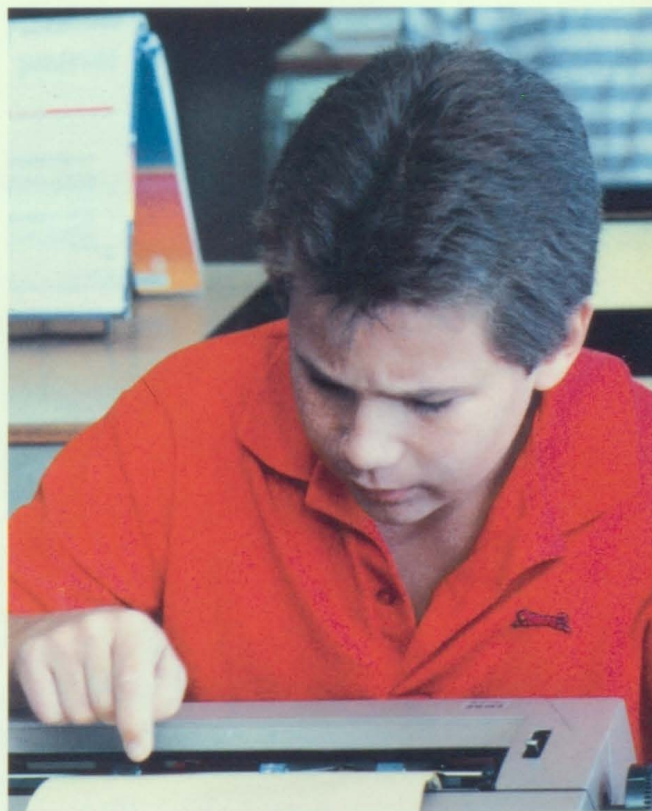

It is not an ending that we face,

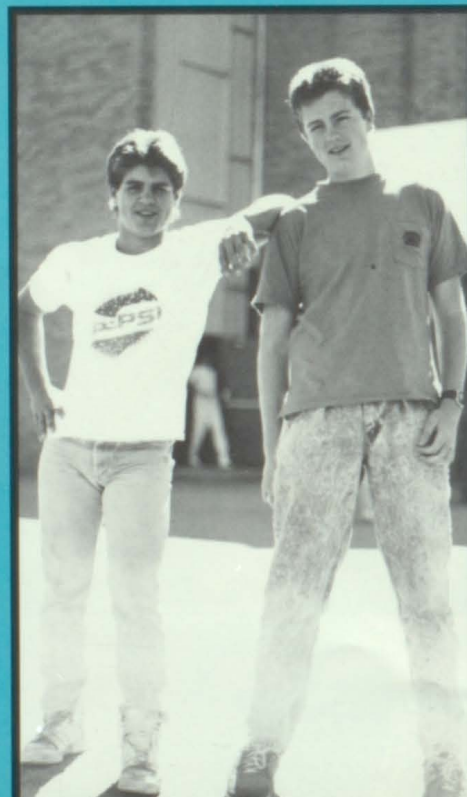

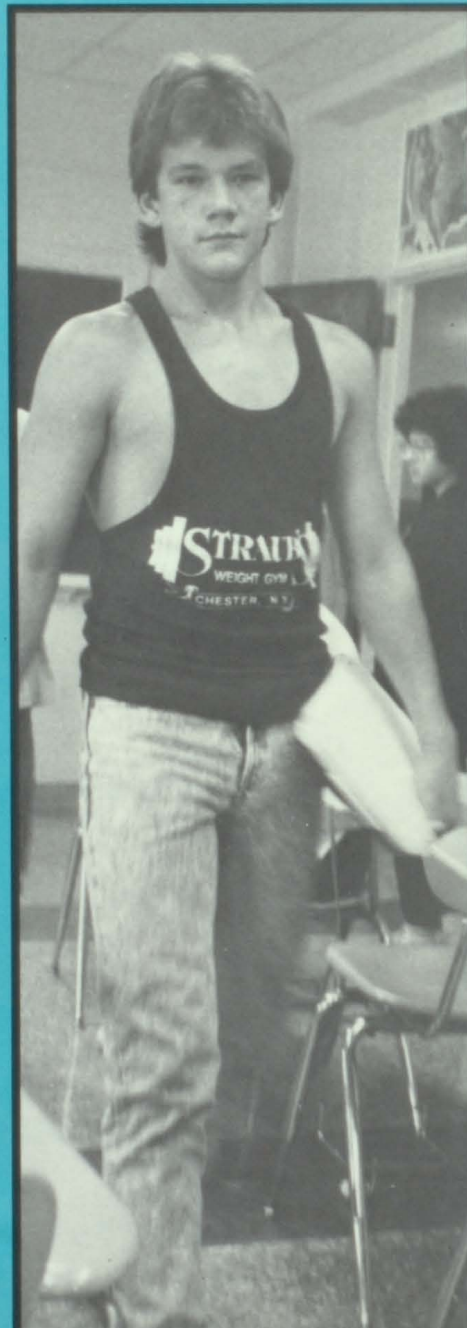

but a new beginning.

The times we have spent together will live on in our memories.

We have all grown together yet we must now search for new directions.

*We all have similar goals,
but different dreams.*

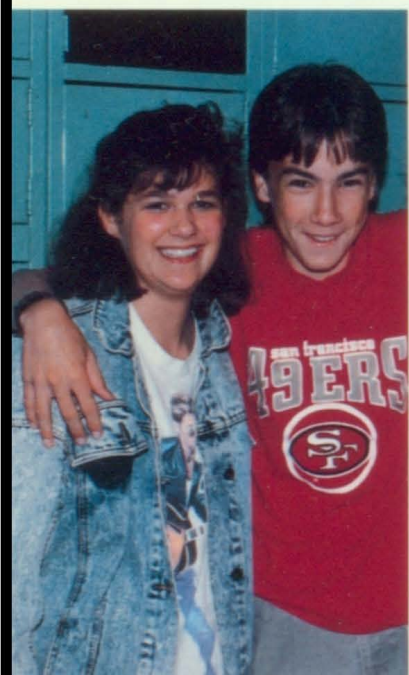

We leave only

To pursue a brighter happier future.

The mysteries of life have yet to be discovered by the Class Of '89.

We must learn from these experiences to prosper in life.

*And thus ends
the 80's*

"Happy Graduation"

I wonder
What you'd say
If I told you
I've had a crush on you
Since the second grade.

I wonder
If you were ever aware
That I always felt as weak
As a newly planted tree
In the midst of a March wind
Every time you looked at me.

I wonder
If you ever noticed
How my face burned as red
As the blood in my heart
Every time you smiled at me.

As you toss your cap high in the air
I have every intention of asking you.
I dash in your direction
Impatient to discover your suspicions.
But by the time
I finally find you
All I can manage is
"Happy Graduation."
